

6th MEETING OF THE JUDICIAL INTEGRITY GROUP

21-22 January 2010, Lusaka, Zambia

THE DISSEMINATION MEASURES

1. Establishment and Maintenance of a Website

1.1 The Judicial Reference Group (the Group) should establish and maintain a website concerning the work and activities of the Group.

1.2 Such website should include information about the Group and its role and activities, including but not limited to:

- a. The Bangalore Principles of Judicial Conduct (“Bangalore Principles”);
- b. The Commentary on the Bangalore Principles;
- c. Measures for the Implementation of the Bangalore Principles (“Implementation Principles”)
- d. Resolutions of United Nations and other international, regional and national bodies adopting, nothing or applying the Bangalore Principles and the Implementation Principles;
- e. Decisions of courts applying the Bangalore Principles and the Implementation Principles;
- f. Academic commentary on the Bangalore Principles and the Implementation Principles; and
- g. These Dissemination Principles.

1.3 The Group should take steps to translate the Bangalore Principles and Implementation Measures into the official languages of the United Nations and may translate the same into other languages and publish such translations on the Group’s website.

2. Distribution of the Principles

2.1 The Group should ensure the distribution of the Bangalore Principles, the Implementation Measures and these Dissemination Measures as well as the foregoing Resolutions, Decisions and Academic Commentary, widely and in particular to:

- a. The Judges of the International Court of Justice and other international and regional courts and tribunals;
- b. The Executive Director of the UNODC;
- c. The Administrator of UNDP
- d. The United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights;
- e. The President of the Human Rights Council of the United Nations;
- f. The Members of the Human Rights Committee of the United Nations established by the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;
- g. The secretariat of the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development;
- h. The heads of national judiciaries; judicial associations; bar associations and national and international associations of lawyers;
- i. Educational institutions, including relevant colleges of judicial education; law schools; and institutes of juridical science;
- j. Anti corruption bodies established by law; and
- k. Other relevant and appropriate bodies.

3. Promotion of the Principles

3.1 The Group should promote awareness and application of the Bangalore Principles and the Implementation Measures by all means within its power.

3.2 Without exhausting the initiatives that should be taken by the Group, these should include:

- a. The promotion of national, regional and international conferences to permit the examination and discussion of the Bangalore Principles and the Implementation Measures;
- b. The institution of professional prizes and awards for promotion of the Bangalore Principles and the Implementation Measures;
- c. The examination and explanation in the public media of the Bangalore Principles and the Implementation Measures, their purposes and values; and
- d. The approach to international and regional organizations, national governments and private foundations to secure funding and logistical and other support to ensure the achievement of the foregoing.